

Could I?

This is one way to go crazy, with my ass hanging out beyond the burbs

We all poor now, part of the purge

Just wanted a spot to call our own, bills paid n some time to roam

It all broke down, not much left for the rest

A rest is an idea, then I wouldn't have to stay

Until the end or we think up a play

I'm glad they're not around to see it today

I could write a happy ending. I could live in a dream

One things for sure, I am glad we're a team
